

THE MODERN DAY LEVITE

Worship Coaching

THE REVELATION ROOM

CALLING ALL LEVITES

Each one of us has a unique sound to be released.

It's time to heed the call, step out of the hidden places, and embrace our portion of His presence and lead!

Can you feel that stirring within you?

Come and join the community

The modern-day Levite is not a relic of the past but a vital role in the present.

There is a growing sense that God is calling modern-day Levites to step out of their hidden places and embrace their role in a new and powerful way. This calling is not limited to a select few, it's a call for many!

In the midst of this modern-day Levitical awakening, there is contention within the church, we are guilty of defining worship by the buildings it's held in rather than the body that hosts it. We risk losing a generation to the worship of culture rather than The Culture of Worship. As Levites, we are called to bring the presence of God into every aspect of our existence, a call that transcends the boundaries of bricks and mortar, a call to expand our worship beyond the church walls and into every corner of our lives and communities.

Living stones defined by the hearts and lives of those who are dedicated to hosting God's presence and prophetically declaring truth, birthing a lifestyle that is a House of Worship.

Have you ever considered the impact of the songs you sing over your community? Worship is not merely an expression of devotion; it is a powerful force capable of transformation! Through worship, we invite the presence of God into our midst, and in His presence, transformation occurs. Our songs, sung with purpose and conviction, have the power to inspire, heal, and ignite!

MEET LUKE FINCH

Luke Finch is a worshiper before he is a worship leader. He is a Prophet, Seer and gifted musician called to raise up Levites who know how to steward revelation in the context of worship, using his leadership to make space for others. He's passionately pursuing his call to take others with him on a journey of discovering how music and sound can establish The Kingdom of God.

Luke and Deb Finch lead 'The Revelation Room' - a worship movement that is establishing a House of Worship in Glasgow Scotland.

Luke began leading worship as a twenty year old university student under the mentorship of Ken and Lois Gott in Sunderland UK and had the joy of marrying their daughter, becoming a worship pastor for over 20 years both in England and the United States and leading worship internationally at conferences and large festivals. Luke is a gifted songwriter who has released four albums and has been featured on almost twenty worship albums.

Luke and Deb have four daughters; Grace, Olivia, Lucy & Sophia. Grace and her husband Danny are core worship leaders on The Revelation Room team.

RELEASE YOUR SOUND

The Levitical rhythm of worship, described in scripture as Psalms, Hymns and Spiritual Songs, offers us valuable insights into how we can approach worship as Levites in the modern day.

PSALMS

Intimacy

Psalms are the starting point of the rhythm of worship. Intimacy that is characterised by adoration, confession, and surrender. A heartfelt expression in communion with Him. They convey deep emotions, personal reflections, and a close connection that everything else is then built upon.

HYMNS

Collective Proclamation

Hymns, as expressions of personal and corporate celebration, serve as a powerful testimony of God's faithfulness and the breakthroughs we've experienced. They are declarations of victory and gratitude for what God has done in our lives and in our communities. This collective celebration also reminds us of the ongoing cycle of worship, as it leads us back into intimacy with God, sparking a continual rhythm of worship in our lives.

SPIRITUAL SONGS

The Prophetic Sound

We have become skilled at Psalms and Hymns but an essential aspect that is often underemphasised in our worship culture is the importance of songs of the spirit.

Spiritual songs are characterised by their spontaneity and a deep connection to the leading of the Holy Spirit. They are not rehearsed or pre-written but are birthed in the moment, carrying fresh revelation as worshipers yield to the prompting of the Spirit. This requires a heightened sensitivity to the Holy Spirit's presence and voice during times of worship.

Prophecy is not solely about foretelling the future but involves forth-telling, which means speaking God's truth directly into the present. As worshipers, this prophetic dimension becomes a key tool in discerning divine strategies. With this revelation, we can navigate with wisdom and authority.

Spiritual songs are vital for ushering in a new sound in worship. They enable worship to adapt to the changing seasons and movements of the Holy Spirit. In a world that constantly evolves, worship should remain attuned to the Spirit's leading.

How do we establish a culture of spiritual songs in worship?

We will discover together how we can create environments that value spontaneity, encourage participation, and nurture the development of Levites who are attuned to the Holy Spirit's leading and respond in real-time to His prompting. Each one of us has a unique sound to be released.
